We have received advice, support, and patient help from many sources. It is our wish here to acknowledge these contributions and to thank expressly all the people and organizations that provided special assistance.

Patti Villalobos managed the jail data collection, including the trend data, jail snapshot, and inmate sample. The court clerks from each of the courts—Tami Hoyem and Jennifer Brandon from district court, Wanda Drusch from justice court, and Michelle Westberg from municipal court oversaw the collection of the court data. A great deal of thanks goes out to each of them for their hard work and the many hours spent collecting the data.

Thanks to Judge Mike Salvagni, Sheriff Jim Cashell, and County Attorney Marty Lambert for their guidance and diligence in overseeing this project. They have the vision and commitment to do proper planning for Gallatin County. Jail Administrator Anita Shaw Tymrak and her staff were always available with needed data and information—going the extra distance to pull needed data out of an antiquated information system.

Thanks to Criminal Justice Coordinating Committee members who attended meetings and have worked on the detail of understanding the relationship between jail population management and criminal justice policy as well as to the Gallatin County Board of Commissioners for taking the time to understand the issues and to accept that building a new facility is only one portion of implementing a Corrections Master Plan.

And of course, a project of this magnitude could never have been completed without the focus and attention to detail provided by District Court Administrator, Dorothy Bradley. We would like to express our appreciation for her unwavering support and commitment to this project. Dorothy has been a catalyst for change in this system. Her work serves as an example of what can be achieved when passion and creativity are brought to a task.

Finally, as always, acknowledgments are made to our colleague Wayne Salvo for help with the data analysis.
